

Initiating new pharmacy services at a large tertiary hospital

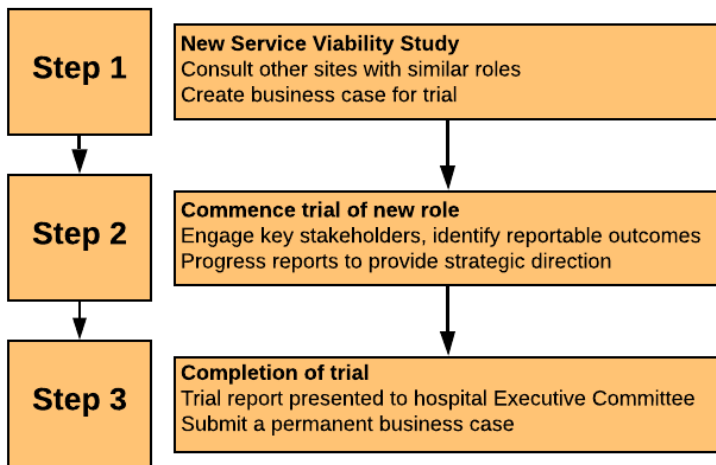

Estelle Jensen and Tori Forrester: Princess Alexandra Hospital, Queensland Health, Brisbane, Australia

Idea

How to implement?

Outcomes

- Perioperative Pharmacist and Transit Care Hub & Patient Flow roles have received permanent ongoing funding
- Cost savings
 Perioperative Pharmacist: $279,785
 Transit Care Hub & Patient Flow: $265,198
- Innovative roles expand pharmacist's scope outside of traditional inpatient ward areas
- When setting up a new service, make sure identify & report on clear and defined outcomes which align with health service values